The greatest disappointment of al which London has had in connection with the jubilee preparations is the in-telligences that the number of Americane who are coming this summer smaller than last year. There was then a falling off from the big record of 1895 so that the prospect for the coming season is dubtous indeed. One American is counted better game in London than is counted better game in London than 20 provincial Englishmen or economical Frenchmen. The fact, therefore, that Brother Jonathan will not intrude very numerously upon John Bull's family party is really a very serious matter.

seats for the jubilee procession and other things of fluctuating value will be a sadly disappointed lot by the tim Jubilee day arrives. As a matter of fact, there are accommodations for many thousands still undisposed of in simply that hotel managers are refusing double, treble and even quadruple their usual rates in the hope that at the last moment stranded and reckless travelers will pay fabulous prices for the meagerest accommodations. The seat speculators also are banking upon the wildest chances. The route of the prooperated, passing through Kansas cession is more than four miles long.
